as we work to build resilience

MAY 25 | 9:00AM (PDT)

A conversation on

Bouncing Back After the Next Disaster

The role of buildings, planning, zoning, and codes in creating recoverable communities

Building Officials
Planning Directors
Community Development Directors
City Managers

- Get an update on state legislation affecting recovery
- Be able to inform your work and local policies with new information from FEMA
- Learn about other resources in place to support your recovery planning efforts before disaster strikes

Every City is invited to participate as we have large and small group discussions online for this 1-hour program. There is no cost to attend, and registration is required by clicking
